WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—President Roosevelt condemned before the world today Nazi persecution of German Jews in an unprecedented and forceful indictment which brought into diplomatic relations near the breaking point.

The President coupled with his harsh rebuke a warning to all nations that the United States will defend the entire western hemisphere against attack.

New Monroe Doctrine
He wrote a new Monroe Doctrine by extending the protection of the historic document to include Canada as well as Central and South America, and put the world on notice that the United States will build an air force, navy and army powerful enough to combat attack.

The President's denunciation of the Nazi persecutions created a sensation in foreign capitals when it was flashed to the world late yesterday.

For the head of a government to assail another government because of its internal policies is an unheard of step in diplomatic proceed-ure, but Mr. Roosevelt thrust aside tradition to an amazed group of correspondents who jammed the

Colegrove Gives Testimony In Erie "Gravel Scandal"

HARRISBURG, Nov. 16.—Arthur Colegrove's "own story" of the Erie
"gravel scandal" added new sensations to the house graft investigation record today as the former Erie cabinet member returned for further testimony.

The public utility commissioner and former property and supplies secretary, first of 14 accused Democrats to take the witness stand, told the committee that:

1.—He rejected a Pioneer Materials Company gravel bid in 1935 over former Attorney General Charles J.
Marrion's objections and statement that it was "absolutely important" that it be so awarded. Colegrove said he saw possible fraud in the low bid. Margiotti brought the principal charges now at issue.

2.—The late John J. Verona Pittsburgh political leader, introduced to Colegrove by Margiotti as "one of my dearest friends" and the man behind the Pioneer company, offered him a "large amount of currency" in 1936. Colegrove testified he rejected the money.

3.—Paul Reinhold, a limestone contractor, told him he was ruled out of bidding on Erie gravel purchases by H. H. Temple, chief highways engineer dismissed in 1937, when

Chicago Man Is Found Guilty In Murder Of Wife

Testimony Of Ten-Year-Old Daughter Given In Trial
On Tuesday

TWENTY YEAR TERM
FACED BY MATTER

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—The fearful accusation drawn from his own 10-year-old daughter today left James K. Matter facing a 20-year prison term for the murder of his wife.

The punishment was fixed by a jury that found him guilty of the killing last night after four and one-half hours of deliberation. Actual sentence was deferred until November 23 pending arguments for a new trial.

No Impression
The 17-minute defense entered in Matter's behalf made no impression on the jury, the foreman stated. The middle-aged industrial engineer was considered guilty on the first ballot and only his punishment concerned the jury the remainder of the time.

Contrary to previously laid plans, Matter did not take the witness stand himself. Instead, the 43-page statement he made after the slay-ing was read into evidence and the defense rested.

In it Matter said his mind had been a blank the night of October 1 when his wife, Marguerite, was shot to death in their bedroom with the army rifle he had kept as a souvenir of his World War service.

Daughter Testifies
The jury was left with only the story of little Martha Joan Matter to fill the gap. She had testified reluctantly for the state that:

"Mamma and papa had been quarreling. After I went to bed I heard her say 'Don't shoot him', but maybe she said 'Don't shoot Jimmie' and then after I heard a loud noise. When I ran in mamma was on the bed and daddy told me to put the gun away. He said mamma had shot herself."

Wood and steel pilings were ripped out by the pounding water for more than 100 feet. Fifth workmen were placing temporary rip-

PRACTICED LAW

Charles Henry Akens, aged 83

away at six o'clock this morn-though advanced in years, he had been active to the last, and was

Mr. Akens held the rank of "Nes-the bar in 1883 and was an active member of the profession throughout the years, a member of the ap-of the federal courts of the United States.

Although law was always his

He was a member of the First

President Says No Other

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Politicians and industrialists joined today in casting an appraising eye on an announcement that Homer S. Cummings would retire as President Roosevelt's attorney general early in January.

The politically-minded foresaw appointment of Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson to the cabinet post and subsequently a possible build-up of the New Yorker as a New Deal presidential candidate in 1940.

Business men, also anticipating that Jackson would become Mr.
Roosevelt's next legal officer, wondered whether the department of justice was headed for a more vigorous prosecution of trusts. Jackson, before becoming solicitor general, was assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division.
That place is now filled by Thurman Arnold, aggressively anti-trust.

No Other Resignations?
Both politicians and business men further pondered President Roosevelt's statement that no other cabinet resignations were in sight—as yet. It has been rumored persistently that Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Hooper was on the verge of retirement with WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins slated to succeed him.

Should Hopkins be named to the cabinet, there would be immediate speculation that he, too, as a White House favorite, was being groomed for 1940. On the other hand, friends of Hopkins point out that he is in just as important a position already.
They concede that while he gets more publicity as WPA administrator, the publicity as secretary of commerce might be less critical.

Jackson and Hopkins are highly regarded by the president. A year ago, Mr. Roosevelt tentatively pushed Jackson as a possible Demo-

Plane Crashes In Trees As Wealthy Flier Seeks Land-

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—An untimely motor failure after he staved off a crash for more than half an hour was blamed today for the airplane plunge in which Luther Martin IV, 34, of Morris-town, N. J., lost his life late last night.

Martin, son of the wealthy president of the Pennsylvania Club of New York, was killed when his private plane fell into a patch of scrub oak while he was seeking an emergency landing field.

Lost on his flight from Cincinnati,
Martin swung his low-wing cabin ship low over a filling station and throttled down the motor to yell at the attendant for directions.

Unable to hear or see the man pointing in the dusk, Martin continued to circle over the vicinity.
The fire and police departments in suburban Downers Grove rushed flourish to the town's golf course, but as they were turned on and Martin was heading his plane in that direction, the motor coughed and stopped. The low-flying machine nosed into the trees only a few feet from the open space.

Needless Meddling Is Italian View Of Roosevelt Move

(International News Service)
ROME, Nov. 26.—An angry burst of headlines in Italian newspapers today greeted the statement by President Roosevelt denouncing the anti-Jewish measures adopted by the Nazi government in Germany.

"Roosevelt, protector of the Ghetto," said the headlines, "sheds light on Jews but declares himself determined to arm and bolster North American imperialism."

Officially, the question of the American president's statement was termed "too delicate to permit comment."

Nevertheless, it was obvious that government quarters here regarded President Roosevelt's humanitarian plan as an example of "unnecessary meddling."

County Delinquent Tax Collector
John Sickafuse had a narrow escape from death Tuesday afternoon when his automobile collided with a Pitts-at Carbon.

Sickafuse was driving north and the passenger train was going west.
There are four tracks at the cross-says that he stopped and looked both ways, but could not see anything as the view of the tracks is limited at this point.

He drove across the Baltimore & Ohio tracks and had just reached the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie tracks when he saw the passenger train bearing down upon him. He shun-ded on the brakes, but the locomotive of the train caught the front end of his car and hurled it against an embankment.

Fortunately Sickafuse escaped with a severe fright and a few bruises. His car is a complete wreck.
The train was stopped and the con-clined. He was able to be at his

ing today as United States Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson prepared to depart for Washington for consulta-

It was expected that the American president's declaration to the press would bring strongly worded official German comment following careful consideration by all Reich govern-

Take New Turn
Meanwhile, German-American relations took a new turn with revelation that the American embassy made formal representations to the German foreign office late yesterday regarding destruction of American property during the recent anti-Jewish demonstrations.

In a written note, the embassy on behalf of the American government reserved the right to claim damages for the destruction.

The American diplomatic step was taken independently of the farewell visit yesterday of Ambassador Wil-

Wilson was busy today cleaning up pending business at the embassy, and giving final instructions to

Truce Of 24-Hours At Plant Strike

Jackson, Mich., Is Scene Of More Labor Strife Result Of Spring Plant Strike

ABOUT 8,000 MEN ARE NOW AFFECTED

JACKSON, Mich., Nov. 16.—Police and non-union workers were removed from the struck Reynolds Spring Company plant under a 24-hour truce today but the "labor holiday" called to bolster the United Automobile Workers union picket line with 6,200 workers from other plants, remained in effect.

The truce was reached between U. A. W. Local President Earl Raudman, and Mayor Russell Bengel, who had issued the order for police to march on the plant with tear and nausea gas guns and then had personally led the march of 125 officers.

The workers called from eight automobile accessory plants by union leaders remained idle.

The Reynolds plant, employing 1,800 men, was closed last Wednesday by a strike called in protest against the company's refusal to grant a new contract. Subsequent negotiations failed to bring about an agreement.

Affected by the labor holiday were the Eaton Manufacturing Company, the Michigan-Walker Company, Ryerson Hayes Company, the Frost Gear Company, and the Hancock Manufacturing Company.

COLGROVE GIVES TESTIMONY IN ERIE 'GRAVEL SCANDAL'

Temple admitted that "this is a set-up." The contract, later voided following a state police probe, went to Pioneer Materials Company.

4—After Pioneer won the 1936 Erie district gravel contract Colgrove warned Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence there was "out and out collusion" between the company and highway officials and that this was borne out in the state police report. Gov. George H. Earle then dismissed Temple and E. A. Griffin, Erie district highway supervisor, and prohibited Pioneer from future bidding.

Colgrove, to be followed on the stand later by Governor Earle and other principals among the accused, testified for three and a half hours in the crowded house chamber. Late yesterday Governor Earle asked the committee's permission to testify.

Burned "Diary" Harrisburg, Nov. 16.—Arthur Colgrove told the house graft investigating committee today he burned a "diary" covering his first 18 months as property and supplies secretary because he suspected former Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti of planning to "use these rumors for political purposes."

The public utility commissioner resumed his testimony before the committee this morning with an account of preliminaries to last spring's bitter Democratic gubernatorial campaign.

Margiotti, who later ran as an independent Democratic candidate for governor, suggested that Colgrove himself seek the nomination and assured him that he would not run unless Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence or U. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffey entered the race, the witness related.

Colgrove said he declined the suggestion, despite Margiotti's assurance of support and his declaration that he intended to support Gov. George H. Earle "to the full limit."

When 250,000 German workers walked out on the C. I. O. Still, it is better to be undismayed than to prostrate one's self at the wailing wall.

One of the most popular songs at local gatherings is "America," but few who sing it know of its origin. It was written by Dr. Samuel Francis Smith when he was 24 years old, and the words were written to fit the music of a German song. In Germany today you couldn't sing a song extolling liberty without it with the freedom of our own beloved land.

Purchase of the Boyles property by the county recalls that the court house was originally built on the site adjoining the Boyles property in 1855 and 1856. The first office to be opened in the court house was by Sheriff Emery, August 17. The entire cost of the court house, including the land, was $10,000, which looked like a big money to residents of the county at that time. The court house was remodeled and an addition built in 1885.

Incorporation of the Greater New Castle Association this week recalls to an older citizen that the first Board of Trade was organized in New Castle in 1885. The first president of the organization was E. S. Durbin, a newspaper publisher, and the first secretary was A. W. Thompson, a manufacturer.

The organization was instrumental in starting a number of industries and was heartily supported by leading citizens. It is hoped that the newly chartered organization will be equally well supported, and that it may accomplish great things for New Castle.

The Pennsylvania State Game Commission has just announced the purchase of thousands of acres of land in different parts of the state for game preserves. Had it not been for the activities of sportsmen in passing laws and in providing places of refuge for game, there would have been no use in anybody taking out a hunting license today for all the game would have been killed long ago. As it is, game is now on the increase, instead of decrease. Work of the commission is kept up largely through fees paid by the hunters for their licenses.

Hunters report more than the ordinary number of deer along the Shippery Rock Creek this year. Seems that the food supply in the upper counties is short this year and the deer came on down to get enough to eat.

"You scream, I scream, we all scream for ice cream" and evidently this young man craves the dessert as he was seen strolling down Highland avenue, probably on his way to the work of the day, at 7:30 this morning, eating an ice cream cone. morning and reviewed fully the situation in the light of the latest developments, including President Roosevelt's blast.

The ministers discussed the progress of various schemes for assisting German Jews, including the plan being worked out by Britain and the United States, and sought to decide whether the government will come forward with open criticism of Germany during next week's debate in parliament. At that time a violent Laborite and Liberal attack against Germany is expected.

Washington's imperative desire for constructive action to assist the Jewish refugees at the earliest possible moment is now fully known and recognized by Whitehall, but British circles admit frankly that the possibility of evolving workable proposals will be extremely difficult.

Why let a politician use millions of your money to bribe voters to elect him? Wouldn't it be cheaper to give him a $10,000 pension to stay out of Congress?

Deeply Shocked "The news of the past few days from Germany has deeply shocked public opinion in the United States. Such news from any part of the world would inevitably produce a similar profound reaction among American people in every part of the nation.

"I myself could scarcely believe that such things could occur in a twentieth century civilization.

"With a view to gaining a first-hand picture of the situation in Germany, I asked the secretary of state to order our ambassador in Berlin to return at once for report and consultation."

The American envoy, Hugh R. Wilson, will sail from Havre, France, Thursday on the liner Manhattan. He will confer with Secretary of State Hull for a day before Hull departs for the Pan-American conference, which is to be held at Lima, Peru, and then is expected to fly to Warm Springs to make a personal report to Mr. Roosevelt. The President plans to spend the Thanksgiving holidays at his Georgia estate.

State Department Silent While the State Department remained silent on this point, belief increased in authoritative quarters today that Wilson will not return to Germany—not, at least, for a long time, if at all. Such a step would inevitably result in the return of German Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff to Berlin.

The President pointedly followed his indictment of Germany with revelation that the scope of the new national defense program will be far greater than hitherto supposed—that the United States must train on a gigantic scale to defend not only the United States, but North Central and South America from attack on the land, at sea and in the air.

The President would not discuss budget costs, but belief was expressed in informed quarters that the rearmament program in the next five years may reach the staggering total of from $8,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000. The initial national defense budget for next year is estimated unofficially at $2,000,000,000 as a starter.

Construction of an air force the equal of any in the world will top the program, the President disclosed.

A combined army and navy air force of 10,000 front-line fighting planes has been privately estimated in army and navy circles as the immediate aim.

Under Way Seven Months The announcement brought successful conclusion to negotiations which have been under way between the three governments for nearly seven months. At times in August and September, there appeared grave doubts as to whether the negotiations would be successful.

British balked at a number of American demands for larger concessions, principally on automobiles, ham, lard and silk stockings.

The state department said that details of the new treaties, including specific concessions on the part of the signatories, will be released for publication Friday morning. They will be released simultaneously in London and Ottawa. Until that time the state department emphasized, details must remain undisclosed.

The meeting is open to the general public.

Why let a politician use millions of your money to bribe voters to elect him? Wouldn't it be cheaper to give him a $10,000 pension to stay out of Congress?

GARDEN CLUB ENJOYS DINNER AMID FLOWERS

Gathered in the greenhouses of H. H. Brothers floral company, members of the Men's Garden club and their wives are a delicious dinner amid several thousand chrysanthemums of all sizes and colors.

Seated at a long table erected in the center of the chrysanthemum beds, over 50 persons were served a dinner by the ladies of the Chrysanthemum club of Youngstown.

In addition to several beautiful floral centerpieces on the tables, there were flowers on all sides of the diners.

John Harvard Is Honored On Ninetieth Birthday Tuesday

Commemorating his ninetieth birthday anniversary, John Harvard, his daughters, Misses Elizabeth and Mary Harvard, entertained Tuesday, November 15, at "open house" at their Euclid avenue home, receiving many friends, relatives and neighbors numbering over a hundred, who called to extend congratulations.

Launching the day, a special program was broadcast from the local station, with Charles Richards, a member of the First Presbyterian choir, contributing a group of vocal selections. He chose the following numbers: "Praise All The Blessings Of The Year," "He That Dwelleth In The Secret Place Of The Most High," "Jesus, Lover Of My Soul." He sang the latter selection in Welsh and English, which delighted Mr. Harvard to the utmost. His two concluding songs were "Sweet Peace, The Gift Of God's Love" and "Thanks Be To God." Edwin Lewis, organist of the First Methodist church, was accompanist. Both men are close friends of Mr. Harvard.

Throughout the afternoon, and in the evening from 7:30 o'clock until 10 o'clock, guests filled into the house, and found themselves amidst a decorative setting of mums, ferns and other flowers of the season.

Many of the baskets containing flowers being gifts from admiring friends. A dainty buffet lunch was served by the hostesses, the Misses Harvard, with the Misses Mary and Martha Hagley, Martha Wiers, Margaret Garvin, Ella McGreevey and Mrs. Fred Lockhart, assisting. The table was appointed in keeping with the theme of the occasion, with tones of yellow and white predominating throughout.

Especially delightful was the contribution made by little Ann Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richards of Highland avenue, who is nearly three years old. She not only pleased her listeners but overwhelmed them with her songs in Welsh and English. She was accompanied by her instructor, Edwin Lewis, at the piano.

While many called at the residence during the reception hours, there were many who were unable to attend, due to distance and in some instances, illness, including Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Newton Armstrong, daughter of the honored one, of New York. They were hindered in taking part in the occasion, due to Mr. Armstrong being confined to bed with influenza. Other children and grandchildren, nieces and nephews who were not able to put in an appearance, remembered their father and grandfather with messages and gifts. He received over a hundred cards and telegrams, in addition to birthday remembrances for his personal use, adding further to the day's enjoyment.

He was particularly elated with the message received from Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, minister of the Marble Collegiate Church on Fifth Avenue, New York, where his daughter, Mrs. Herbert Newton Armstrong, who is better known to the public as Sue Harvard, is soloist. Dr. Peale has visited frequently at the Harvard home.

Mr. Harvard, who has resided many years in New Castle was a member of the Emanuel Baptist church, until later years when he joined the First United Presbyterian church. He has won a wealth of friends and acquaintances in the immediate vicinity as well as surrounding cities, and is in good health.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiggins, the latter another daughter of the honored one, Miss Gwen Jones, Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. David Thomas, and Mrs. John Eymon, all of Youngstown, O., Miss Sadie McManis of Mendville and others from out of town, were among the participants.

VENPO CLUB GUESTS AT LUNCHEON PARTY

Mrs. Joseph Ridley received the Venpo club members in her Moody avenue home on Tuesday for a 1 o'clock luncheon. Thanksgiving colors and decorations were carried out. Mrs. Ridley was assisted in serving by her daughter, Mrs. Carl Olson.

After luncheon hours were spent in playing 500, prizes for this pastime being awarded to Mrs. Joseph Hollar and Mrs. W. C. Powers for high scores.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. H. L. Fry, Newell avenue, on Monday, December 5. This meeting will also be in the form of a 1 o'clock luncheon.

Colonial Club Change
The meeting scheduled for Thursday for Colonial club members has been postponed until further notice.

Has Part In Play
Mrs. John McWhirter of 121 Hazelwood avenue has one of the leading roles in the Pulitzer prize play by George Kelly, "Crimes With..." which is now being rehearsed by the Youngstown Players in that city. This will be the Players' second production. Playing opposite Mrs. McWhirter will be Jack Goldman.

Hubbard Kirkpatrick is director of the production, and Truedel Pitt technical director.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TELL CHILD HE'S ADOPTED

A READER who, I am happy to note, addresses me as "Dear Friend" writes:

"I read your column every day and enjoy it very much. I have an adopted boy almost three years old.
We have had him since he was three days old, and he is as dear to us as our very own. Some people think that this is impossible but I am sure that it is not."

"We have been living in this place about six months, and one here knows that he is adopted. Not that I care that they know, but it has not become necessary that I tell any one.
Every one in the town that we moved from knows it. As there are so many adopted children these days, I wish you would write something in your column for the benefit of those who think that adopted children don't mean as much to their parents as their own children do."

Her Problem

"My problem is this: I think my baby is getting old enough to begin to teach him that he is adopted. As far as I am concerned, he need never know, but I feel that it is better for me to teach it to him than for him to grow up and have someone else tell him in a way that might hurt him. But when I start to tell him, words fail me. If you know of any good way or know of any literature on this, I would appreciate it if you would send it to me or tell me where I could get it.
Please tell me if you think I should or should not tell him, and in what way I should go about it."

I was glad to write this mother and to tell her where she can get a copy of my pamphlet, "Sex Instruction in the Home," in which her questions are answered. Also, I wrote her about as follows: "Do tell that child at once that he is adopted.
Do it as nonchalantly as if you were telling him the name of a wild flower he has plucked. In order for him to understand, he must learn where babies come from. Perhaps he has already asked you. What you will say about his real mother will vary with the facts."

Little Emotion Now
Your child will have very little emotion about the matter now, perhaps. But the older he grows, the more emotional the ordeal will be to him. Besides, you do not want this child to discover some day that you had deceived him.

You are quite correct in believing that he can love you just as much as if he were your own flesh and blood, and that he can love you just as much. Unfortunately, some adoptive parents get the silly notion that they find themselves failing to guide the adopted child well, that bad traits of the real parents are crawling out. This is human nature's way of running from one's own responsibility."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ANYONE'S PROPERTY.

The little man with an umbrella was perfectly harmless, but the lady sitting next to him in the bus was a snorter and suspicious of all males. So since they were somewhat crowded on the seat, she pushed the umbrella between her knee and his holding it firmly as a barrier.

A shower came up, and when the woman left the car she put up the umbrella. As she did so, she perceived that the little man followed her. She had guessed that he was a masher, now she knew it.
She walked quickly down the side street and the man pursued through the driving rain. She ran up the steps to her home and feeling herself safe at last, she faced about and addressed her pursuer angrily: "How dare you follow me—what do you want, anyhow?"

The drenched little man at the foot of the steps spoke, pleadingly:
"Please, ma'am, I want my umbrella."

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)
CINCINNATI—Mrs. Franklin D.
Roosevelt:

"I hope that we in our country will remain as free of prejudice and as tolerant of all people as we have in the past."

ALBANY, N. Y.—Gov. Herbert H.
Lehman, announcing his January inaugural will be just "a simple ceremony."

"This is no time to spend money on frivolities."

WASHINGTON—Senator King, Utah Democrat, discussing the persecution of minorities in Germany:
"If Germany doesn't halt her dis-picable course, she will be ruined.
The world will have nothing to do with her."

PHILADELPHIA—Heavyweight
contender Tony Galento after fans boiled the bout in which he scored a third round technical knockout over Harry Thomas:

"What do you mean fake? I've never been in a fake fight. Why blame me if Thomas can't take it?"

Bible Thought For Today

father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter-in-

HINTS and DINTS

Sun sets tonight 4:44; sun rises tomorrow 6:47.

We received a communication in regards to our comments on the trucks on the highways. The writer evidently wants it to appear as coming from "A Citizen." If he will allow the use of his name it will be printed. Everybody knows who we are and we are responsible for our stuff and we will not allow any firing from the bushes in this column.

The pipe dream manufacturers will find their business sort of on the bum for a while now.

When a woman tells the family physician her heart goes flip-flop he knows it is about normal.

A Cleveland man was recently arrested for pushing his wife out of the house in her steps. It's getting so a man can't tell whether his wife is dressed or not.

A new stenographer soon establishes herself when the boss calls her in for dictation and tells her to sit down. If she starts looking for a chair she is a rank amateur.

Now some of the Democrat politicians call the recent election a "political recession." It struck those guys harder than any depression has so far.

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES
The decrepit old car drove up to the toll bridge.

"Fifty cents," cried the gateman.
"Sold," replied the driver.

An old maid accidentally fell out of her window and landed in a garbage can. A Chinaman passing remarked, "Americans velly wasteful.
She good for two years yet."

Doesn't it make you laugh to think of all the worries folks will have a couple of generations from now.

To save local tax some of the Ohio trucks park at the city limits and sell their stuff right from there.
Those boys are bound to get New Castle business, but would shoot anyone who pulled the same stuff in Ohio.

John—A kiss speaks volumes, they say.
Henry—Yes? Then don't you think it would be a good idea for us to start a library?

Entering a city, the signs say
"Don't Park Here," "No Left Turns,"
"Private, Keep Out," "No Trespassing," "Going Out," "Thank You, Come Again."—The hypocrite!

We hear many things said about "beautiful funerals," but so far have not heard any one say they would like to be the central attraction in one.

Every once in a while the old-fashioned street car makes a jump as though it were going over to the curb and park. Then it decides to plod on aviville further. Anyway flat wheels take a fellow further than flat tires.

When people visit their relatives for the first time in years, it means they have bought a swell car.

One reason why a lot of people can't find Opportunity is because she's old. Old usually goes around disguised as Hard Work and they won't let him in when he knocks at the door.

Mrs. Hum says Hi's been going to the garage for the past five years, and he don't even know where it meets.

The use of racial, religious and political abuse in some foreign countries are terrible to behold by people in this country. We are in favor of one more war and we would take part in it just to clean up the world.

of such political autocrats. Most of them don't care anything for religion anyhow.

TOO BUSY
Worry, 'cause I'll lose my job?
Brother, I haven't the time;
Mine is a job that can never be lost.
Though it pays not a solitary dime.

Worry, 'cause I may starve ere long
And shiver with cold in the street?
Brother, I haven't time to despair,
I'm too busy to think of defeat.

Do you think I should worry
Just because my job is through?
Why, I haven't enough time to waste
In Worry, I've too much to do.

I'm busy just living.
And I've got years and years ahead
I've no time to worry while I'm alive
And what's the use after I'm dead?

"Very well, now," said an angry wife to her husband, "I have an electric refrigerator. See what you can do about a mechanical stenographer."

Even the hens are trying to help out in the depression, at least many of them have been laying double yoked eggs.

Every time Pap misses, there's one phrasant Mother won't have to pick.

Mrs. Pecksniff—Henry, what in the world do you see in the marriage notices that so funny?
Henry—I just saw the name of somebody that I don't like and I'm going to send him a note of condolence.

Teacher—Now, Anthony, try this sentence: "Take the cow out of the lot." What mood?
Anthony—The cow.

Good Taste

REG. U. S. PATENT OFFICE

By Francine Markel

Never congratulate a bride on her recent marriage nor a bride-to-be on her engagement. Congratulate the husband or fiancé and wish her happiness and luck. Congratulations to her imply, unintentionally, of course, that she is fortunate in having "captured" her man, which is an insulting insinuation.

Reader's Question Answered
Dear Miss Markel—I want to give an afternoon bridge party. Please suggest the simplest kind of written invitation—hostess.

Answer—Of course, telephone invitations are always permissible for informal functions. Or you might,
if you prefer, send visiting card invitations with the date and "bridge at three" written in ink along the top of the card.

"R.S.V.P." in the lower left-hand corner and your address in the lower right-hand corner.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader including a self-addressed 3-cent stamped envelope.

Tonorrow—The Importance of Good Lighting.

That bird McCall, who kidnapped and killed the little Case boy in Florida, is still trying to get a new trial after he pleaded guilty to the dastardly crime and was sentenced to be executed. He did turn back the $10,000 he collected. What a lot of expense that mob would have saved if it had been let at him!

How many people know what Communism, Nazism, Socialism or Fascism are? If they did know they would be surprised. Do you know what any of those things are?

Cash on hand is what builds up hope for tomorrow.

AMERICAN SLANG POPULAR
Once upon a time it was necessary for a traveler to have mastered "pig-gin' English" in order to make himself understood in far parts of the world without an interpreter. Today, it is said, the tourist, possessing a good American slang vocabulary will fare just as well if not better. Such terms as "searum," "search me,"
"swell," "lousy," and the like are well understood by all who come in contact with Americans whether it be in Sweden, Japan, Brazil or Tim-buktou.

Con-ard—Will your people be surprised when you graduate this month?

Senior—No, they've been expecting it for several years.

Some women never know what to expect from their husbands next, and husby tries hard not to disappoint them.

Remember one thing: It's a dumb puppl who doesn't think his teacher is smart.

Tessie—All this talk about everything shortening a girl's life. Why I think every kiss a girl gets makes her a hour younger.

Clady—Goodness! Then I don't think I'm born yet.

President Roosevelt is going to try and get some brains in some of his appointments. He has appointed Alfred M. London to a conference in Paris. It looks as if he wanted to get Alf out of the country for a while.

The two things that will make us a land of old people are birth control and pensions.

Yes, other nations are aiming to defend themselves, too, but their motive isn't innocent and sincere like ours.

Lady—Are you really content to spend your life walking the country beating?

Trump—No indeed lady, many's the time I've wished I had a car.

Our grandpa's didn't need drugstore vitamins. You see, they didn't live on drugstore meals.

If the qualifying age is low enough, it isn't an old age pension but unemployment insurance.

Things even up. For every poor girl fooled by a city slicker, a rich old guy is fooled by a poor girl.

Getting a reputation saves you money, too. If people think you rich, you can get by with dime-store jewelry.

Modern Drama: A drunk woman enters a room; men leap to their feet to show their respect for a lady.

One reason why men after forty don't write their old mothers every week is because there is nothing to say except: "This week I did the same as last week."

There's only one hope now—a law submitting to the people every project to give citizens public money, and permitting none to vote who will profit by it.

Little—If I remember correctly you're an optimist, aren't you?

Uppie—Yes, after a sort. I believe the world is getting better every day, but I'm not so sure about the nights.

What's What At A Glance

Japanese Interference Annoys
Conquests Keep Navy Lights Ablaze Capture Of Canton Proves Serious

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Japan's possession of the Chinese city of Canton is becoming an increasing worry to quite a few departments in Washington. Just what was expected is coming to pass. The Japs are doing more and more interfering with our countries' trade thru Chinese ports. Our navy department is kept guessing day and night. Particularly Admiral William D. Leahy, the department's chief of operations,
has to be overhauling on the alert.
He discussed his problem by radio recently and it was very plain that he considers it a difficult one. He didn't dwell especially upon the Oriental angle of it, but Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, who threw in a few radio words, did which was natural, considering that he's in command of our Asiatic fleet.

The War Department isn't so immediately concerned as are naval folk. Nevertheless it has its contin-gent interest in the situation. The State Department naturally is tremendously interested. The Commerce Department is vitally interested too, for the safety of Chinese-American business is involved.

In fact, the whole state of affairs is a headache to everyone with any clear comprehension of its potentialities.

Japan's pounce all along obviously has been to gain control of all of China's ports of entry.

Japan-izing of the interior of so large a country necessarily must be a work of years. However, it will not be so hard for the mikado, as absolute boss of every one of its inlets and outlets to regulate all that goes into or comes out of it. The inter-land may and probably will boil and bubble indefinitely. It will be the Nippon fearfully. Still, Tokyo will have it corked up internally. It will be a nuisance to the Japs but the Japs, with a ring around it, will be a nuisance to outsiders, who want to get in to trade.

Even yet Chinese transportation is mainly by inland waterways. Until quite lately, it was common for some war lord to grab a convenient bottleneck on one of these rivers or canals and exact tribute from all passing boats. It was illegal but the war lord usually got away with it.

The Japs' idea is to do the same thing at coastal cities making their tribute prohibitive to all except Japanese traffic.

They began on China's more northern Pacific ports, virtually blockading them. These ports were internationalized. Japan had no right to do it. Yet she did. Other countries protested but no more than that. I suppose they didn't like to risk war with her.

Finally the mikado got down to Canton in the extreme south—the only remaining Chinese port he didn't Japan-ize. Now, he's got China's seaward fringe is completely Japan-ized, barring the skimpy scrimies of blockade runners.

Imagine that as a military proposition, all this was essential to the Japanese. All the same it was kick in the pants to every Occidental power, as well as to China.

There are overland backdoors into the Celestial republic through Siberia, Tibet and French Indo China or across the Gobi desert but they're impossibilities, militarily or com-mercially.

In short, the Japs have about put their present scheme across.

What's Japan's objective? Japan will be busy for a long time with China—"pacifying," as they say, the Chinese. It may take a generation or two.

But what do the Japs want ultimately?

Some of their statesmen have told that they want Hongkong, a British possession on an island off Canton. It isn't America's funeral directly, but I can imagine that we could see Tokyo grab it with composure.

Japs also have hinted at Australia, New Zealand and India. We wouldn't like anything like that, either.

Incidentally—the Philippines:
We're trying to get rid of them, but not to Japan. The mikado likewise has an eye on Portuguese Macao off the south Chinese coast, and on the Dutch East Indies, Borneo and the Dutch wouldn't stand a chance.

All this may sound cuckoo, but there's no telling what Japan's crazy militarists may think up. They date back to the Vikings or thereabouts.

IT IS ALSO likely that resistance will be offered to the provision in the old bill to create a Department of Public Welfare, the head of which would be a member of the Cabinet. Opposition to this would largely be inspired by knowledge that the President is eager to put in the Cabinet Mr. Hopkins, now regarded as his closest friend. Recent political activities of Mr. Hopkins, his remark about "taxing" on the subject of spending money and electing, his blanket denial of a Senate committee's charges and the way in which he has swelled with power have not endeared him to the Senate, nor the returns indicate to the public.

In the coming Congress, Mr. Roosevelt's ability to get through what he wants in the way he wants it has been greatly diminished by the recent elections. It would seem the part of wisdom now for him to put aside his petty irritation with Senator Byrd, who has made a deeper study of the subject than anyone else, and cooperate with him in getting through a measure that will be generally satisfactory. Conceding that his purposes in this matter are as free from egotism as Mr.
Byrd, it is a little difficult to understand why the President has been so opposed to a reorganization which would abolish useless agencies and save real money, why he insisted so strongly on a plan that would do neither.

THE President's plan at once aroused a storm of protest. As originally presented, it would have given him complete control of all quasi-judicial boards which have always functioned independently of Executive. In that and in other ways the President's bill would have made his power supreme over every branch of government. It was plainly designed to blanket Senator Byrd, whose insistence upon economy as a prime purpose of any reorganization Mr. Roosevelt resented.

NOW the whole thing has to come up as a new proposition. To those who agree with Senator Byrd, it still seems absurd that a reorganization of a Government, like a reorganization of a business, should not save money. There will be in the Senate this time insistence upon a reorganization that will eliminate such useless government bodies as the National Emergency Council, which spends a million a year largely on pay roll and propaganda. There will be insistence upon an auditing department wholly free from Executive control, and there will be insistence upon Congress being consulted before, and not after, consolidation is made.

Just Folks

MAN'S POSSIBILITIES
Never we'd boast if we knew
All that we can do and should,
The great things God meant us to do.

Knowing well that we could,
The gift of invention is ours,
What we wish we can be,
And endowed with unlimited powers
For achievement are we.

The birds and the beasts of the field
Through their lives are compelled To the promptings of instinct to yield
And unchangeably held.

But men from such shackles are free
Until death's final change,
To the artists God meant us to be
There's no limit at all.

Cards and Chinese checkers provided the pastime. Those winning awards included the following: bridge, Miss Hazel Grossman and Mrs. Selma Fleezer; 500, Mrs. Edna Crain and Mrs. Edna Gibson; Chinese checkers, Mrs. Eva Cowels. Lunch was served afterwards at a nicely decorated tables.

A Christmas party was planned for December 20 at the home of Mrs. Martha Berkheimer on Hazelcroft avenue. She will have as co-hostesses Mrs. Marie Roof, Mrs. Bernice Parker, Mrs. Bertha Moser and Mrs. Selma Fleezer.

TUESDAY KENSINGTON AT REIMOLD RESIDENCE

Mrs. J. W. Reimold, Smithfield street, entertained the Tuesday Kensington members at a lovely luncheon in a tea room on the Harlansburg road Tuesday afternoon. Twelve members attended the event. Following the serving of a delicious luncheon, the hours were spent informally.

In two weeks, Mrs. T. E. Bear of Neshannock boulevard will be hostess to the group.

Surprise Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Al Gierlach, 4 South Front street, were surprised Sunday morning when the latter's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perkins and children, of Cumberland, Md., arrived for a short visit. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Breighner, of Cumberland, were also guests.

While they were here, all of the sisters of Mrs. Gierlach and several friends gathered for a reunion. The visitors left Sunday evening to return to Cumberland.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD
Without medicine—without pills—without anything from Soup to Nuts.
The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, spicy or rich foods, or when you are nervous, hurried or over-tired, your stomach cannot digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel uncomfortable and uneasy all over.
Doctors say: never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bellanox for indigestion to make the stomach digest foods properly. Bellanox is a powerful stomach tonic and it does the work in 5 minutes and puts you back on your feet. Relief is so quick, it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bellanox for indigestion.

Race Track Gambling Bills Passed By Senate

Two Thompson Bills Sent To House By Senate Before Adjournment

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 16.—Before adjourning for the winter, the Senate today passed and sent to the House two Thompson bills prohibiting dissemination of horse race track information for gambling purposes. The bills, both of which were introduced by Sen. Thompson, passed by a vote of 27-12.

The measure provides for a maximum penalty of $5,000 fine or three years imprisonment and costs, both for the offender and receipt of horse racing information, and in addition place the burden of proof upon persons and companies accused of violations. One bill stipulates public utility commission approval of telephone lines for reception and transmission of race information.

Meanwhile, a regulatory house bill was in that chamber as introduced by Reps. Paul C. McGraw, Franklin, and Isidor Ostroff, Philadelphia. Democratic members of the joint legislative committee which has been investigating dissemination of gambling information, Thompson heads the committee. The McGraw-Ostroff bill, which passed first reading last night, proposes a $100 a year license for each establishment receiving horse racing information. The P. U. C. would be the licensing agency.

Harry Barber Dies In Smethport, Pa.

Funeral Services Conducted
This Week For Former
New Castle Man

Funeral services were conducted at Smethport, Pa., on Monday for the late Harry Barber, aged 71 years, a former New Castle man. Mr. Barber was born and reared in New Castle, son of Benjamin J. and Mary S. Barber. He was one of the old and well known men of Moravia street with his father, and brother, George Barber, both now deceased. His wife, Lizzie, died while he resided in New Castle. After her death, Mr. Barber went to live in Smethport and was employed in the glass works.

He leaves one brother, J. Benjamin Barber of Cleveland, O., and two sisters, Mary Elizabeth Walker and Sadie Camp, of Smethport. He leaves relatives and many friends in New Castle.

was struck. However, he said he had not been injured, according to Clark's report.

While she was paying her respects to a deceased person in Harrison street, someone stole gloves, a flashlight and a mouth organ from the automobile of Mrs. Frank Cox, 1025 Butler avenue, last night. The car was damaged.

During the past several days four persons paid fines for speeding here, according to police reports. Those who paid gave the names of J. Gordon Harris, Thomas Mainella, Paul Tots and Mike Italia. It cost each $10.

EXPECT GERMANY TO MAKE REPLY TO ROOSEVELT ATTACK

returned to Berlin before going to Düsseldorf to participate in the funeral services tomorrow for the late Ernst Von Rath, was engaged in conferences with close advisors.

Meanwhile the belief was gaining ground in many quarters that the German government may retaliate for Wilson's summons to Washington by calling home to Berlin its ambassador in the United States, Hans Dieckhoff, for a consultation in the near future.

It was learned in diplomatic quarters that the various foreign embassies here are working in closer cooperation in the procedure of their representations to the German government in connection with the aftermath of the anti-semitic demonstrations.

The embassies chiefly concerned are seeking three things from the German government.

Three Things Asked

In the first place, they are asking damages for property of their nationals which was damaged or destroyed.

Second, they want assurances that Jews living in Berlin are foreign citizens, such as, for example, American Jews resident here, will not be included in the settlement of the $400,000,000 fine levied against the Jews.

Third, the diplomats ask assurances that foreign Jews be permitted, at least in principle, the right to continue to do business here if they so desire.

The embassies, according to information available today, will make formal protests if they consider them justified after getting replies from the Wilhelmstrasse on the three points enumerated.

In the case of American complaints of property damage, lengthy investigations are still going on to establish the exact circumstances. For example, the investigations are trying to learn whether or not stores which displayed American flags which allegedly were torn from their windows, were actually in American hands or were run by German Jews. It was understood here today that American quarters had received indirect and unofficial assurances that American Jews would not be discriminated against in any respect, including payment of shares of the $400,000,000 fine.

Attorney Hints At Conspiracy In High Ranks

Says He Has Evidence Of High Pittsburgh Officials In Numbers Lottery Plan

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—Little credence today was being placed by the district attorney's office in charges of an attorney for a convicted numbers racketeer that he had evidence showing seven high city officials were in a conspiracy to operate a numbers lottery in the city.

The charge was made by Attorney Harry Alan Sherman, in asking Judge Samuel H. Gardner to postpone sentence on Michael Murphy, Assistant district attorney William J. O'Donnell took issue with Sherman's statement that Murphy had already given his evidence to the district attorney's office and Judge Gardner sentenced the defendant to nine months in the county jail.

Previously, Murphy had been vigorously assisted by visiting Judge Chester D. Fitch of Allegheny county for standing on his constitutional rights and refusing to testify against two city policemen whom he had charged with extortion. As a result, the case against them collapsed.

The following members of auxiliary or committee were also special guests. The delicious dinner was served by Mrs. Martha Carr and her committee. Places were set for 23.

Mrs. Nancy VanHorn called the business meeting to order after dinner and appointed six department chairmen whose names follow: Legislation, Mrs. Rose Porter; child welfare, Mrs. Margaret Whitacre; Americanism, Mrs. Martha Carr; national defense, Marie Pence; battleship Oregon, Mrs. Mary Davies; reconstruction, Mrs. Edna Vaughn.

Mrs. Porter gave an account of the northwest district council meeting of last Sunday in Greenville, which she attended, along with Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Katie Scott. The auxiliary bade farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nesle, who are leaving Saturday for Safety Harbor, Fla., where they will spend the winter. The following members of auxiliary or committee were also present: Mrs. Dorothy Gilbert, A. L. Whitacre, Scott Hamilton and George Ray.

A social meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Carr, 920 Dewey avenue, November 28, and election of officers is scheduled for the December 12 meeting in the Legion lounge.

She Accuses

"You killed my brother George," shrieked Elizabeth Hess (above) a few minutes after this picture was taken in Brooklyn, N. Compensation Bureau Employees Dismissed

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 16.—Dismissal of approximately 700 per diem and provisional employees in the division of unemployment compensation of the department of labor and industry was announced today.

The dismissal order said that the employment was terminated at the direction of the social security board in Washington. Most of the dismissed employees were employed in the central administrative offices here, but many were employed in offices throughout the state.

Department officials declared that a "steady stream" of mid-summer applications for jobless compensation was largely responsible for the dismissals. Applications, they state, dropped from about 25,000 claims per week in mid-summer to about 5,000 for the last week in October.

The word "sagging" comes from the old French word "baque" meaning bundle.

in Washington. Most of the dismissed employees were employed in the central administrative offices here, but many were employed in offices throughout the state.

Department officials declared that a "steady stream" of mid-summer applications for jobless compensation was largely responsible for the dismissals. Applications, they state, dropped from about 25,000 claims per week in mid-summer to about 5,000 for the last week in October.

The word "sagging" comes from the old French word "baque" meaning bundle.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

Copyright 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

OFTEN PARENT NEEDS DISCIPLINE RATHER THAN DISOBEDIENT CHILD.

This week a young mother in New York wrote me a rather pathetic letter telling me how she honestly tried to train her child, but that his only reaction seemed to be resentment. The letter was almost hysterical in its tone, so I had little difficulty in visualizing the woman—nervous, irritable, with her child always underfoot in a small flat.

So I wrote her and as gently as I could I suggested to her that it was she, not the child, that needed training.

Far too many parents think that discipline can only be enforced by whipping. I think that is one of the worst ways possible of teaching discipline. I read once in the words of some scholar that discipline was the art of making disciples. That is the art of leadership.

Too often parents whip a child when they are angry. One mother, like the one I spoke of, loses her temper when her little boy won't listen. The child knows his mother has lost her temper, and he rather enjoys seeing her fly off the handle. It makes him feel very, very important.

But this isn't all. When the child realizes that his parent cannot control her temper, he loses his respect for her. From then on he obeys only because she is bigger and stronger than he. Very probably by this time he has lost sight of the fact that he has done wrong, and when she whips, his only reaction is one of resentment. He feels that he has been done an injustice.

One thing modern experimental education has discovered is the importance of parents' behavior in bringing up children. It has proven that the real test of parenthood is to maintain such a prestige with your child that he will obey you without the use of your superior strength.

Think what a place the Quintuplet's nursery would be if every time one of them disobeyed, or was naughty, she was whipped. In fact, they are about the best examples of what I mean. They have never been whipped, yet you never saw better behaved children.

The first principle in disciplining a child is to teach him that certain consequences follow his actions. This if one of the Quints won't finish her plate at mealtime, she isn't coaxed and wheedled into doing so. She receives no substitute for the course she refused.

Of course it is folly to bribe children to be good. But it is the thing to do to give him certain rewards for good behavior; just as he should be penalized when it is bad. That is the great thing: let him discover that if he is bad, then he is punished, not by whipping, but by depriving him of something he likes. Perhaps his freedom is curtailed, his dessert may be denied him, he may lose his play hour or not be allowed to play with some toy he prizes.

Remember, he doesn't lose anything by being whipped, and he may derive a perverse pleasure from seeing his mother lose her temper.

When he is good, his reward can be given him in many small ways: an extra play period, a treat at mealtime. He will soon learn that certain consequences follow his every action.

And remember, the time to start this long process of discipline is the day your child is born.

by Mrs. Lizzie Jones and Mrs. Mary Rice. The guests gathered about the table which was centered with a large birthday cake topped with lighted candles. The honoree received many beautiful gifts. The guests included Vernon Stodolnik, Marie, Dorothy and Betty Matheson, Betty Jean and Ruth Marie Warner, Marie Ryder Shirley Anne and Louise Warner, Esther Marie Hedglin, Norma Vecchio, Leona and Stella Lapiga, Margaret Kopnick, Betty Como and Lisa Bonanni and Eugene Filer.

AROUND CITY HALL

It appears from the experience of a police officer who visited police headquarters Tuesday that more persons between the ages of 15 and 22 become involved in trouble than are persons over 22 years of age. He was here inquiring into the habits of persons who are on parole in this county. He said he had found approximately only 10 per cent of the number of persons released from reformatories are returned during the supervisory period. A close check is kept on persons paroled, he stated. Prior to being paroled a person must have promise of work and a sponsor, he declared.

Radios for the new police automobiles have been delivered to the police chief. The automobiles are expected to leave the Chevrolet factory today for this city.

How Women in Their 40's Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 35 to 40), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about wrinkles, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and needy spells.

Just get more fresh air, 8 hrs. sleep and if you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is especially for women. It helps nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vitality to every line of the system. It cures nervousness and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life. Pinkham's is WELL WORTH trying.

Milk Weed Seeds Float Over City

In the mild days of fall, the winds are carrying mysterious spheres of a flosslike nature. One of these was snatched from the air by one of our downtown visitors recently, and brought to Owen Fox, with the query, "What kind of insect is this?" The strange looking sphere was the seed of the milk weed, with its balloon-like attachment. The milk weed is a native of the country fields and roadsides, and to find its seed riding on the air over a busy street is an innovation. The stormy winds of fall causes the milk weed pods to burst, and carries their seeds for miles in the air, and when the season is dry, these seeds with their round tufts of silken "hair," will travel sometimes as far as 500 miles before descending to the earth, where they may find soil to germinate, and bring forth new milk weed plants.

Often times the milk weed pod will not open until the following spring, and at that time this is where the humming birds get most of their material for making their miniature nests.

Bird lovers who go into the field when snow is upon the ground, will often see juncoes opening up the tight pods, to feed upon the black seeds encased therein.

ALL OF THE NEW CARS WILL AGAIN BE DIVIDED INTO 2 CLASSES—

SUPERCHARGED!! NOT SUPERCHARGED

Most cars in a given price class will LOOK pretty much alike. Graham—the only American car offering a Supercharged engine—again stands alone as the one new and different driving "thrill" left to the buyer who is fed up with ordinary automobiles!

1939 GRAHAM $965

SUPERCHARGED MODELS AT ADDITIONAL COST

365 E. Washington St. HOLLY'S GARAGE New Castle, Pa.

WHAT A SUPERCHARGER IS AND WHAT IT DOES TO MAKE DRIVING AN ADVENTURE AGAIN

BURNS MORE AIR—LESS GASOLINE!
The Supercharger is an engineering miracle, pioneered five years ago by Graham. Proved in more than 100,000 miles of own operation! A Supercharger breaks gasoline into a fine, misty vapor. Mixes it with air under pressure. Then forces evenly into the cylinders a "leaner" mixture of far greater efficiency.

UNBELIEVABLE PICK-UP SPEED, PERFORMANCE! The accelerator and pick-up of a Supercharged engine is simply amazing. Even at 50 m.p.h. and up, where ordinary engines become sluggish, Graham pick-up is astonishingly fast! You get instant response at all speeds... pass other cars more safely, because you get back in line more quickly.

OFFICIAL A. A. A. ECONOMY CHAMPION! You'd expect a car as big as this to cost more to run. But it's the Official A. A. A. Economy Champion for the third successive year! In the Gilmer-Yosemite Economy Sweepstakes, in competition with other cars of all popular makes, Graham, in 1935, established the economy record—25.77 miles per gallon!

*4-DOOR SEDAN WITH TRUNK Combination Coupe $940, 2-door Sedan $940, delivered in Detroit completely equipped including federal tax and all standard accessories. Only freight, title and local taxes (if any) to be added. SUPERCHARGER MODELS AT ADDITIONAL COST.

The Human Side Of The News (By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1938 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

This writer read with close attention and great interest, the Washington dispatches reporting that Chancellor Hitler was "guided by the stars," in the recent crisis, with his favorite astrologer charting every move. "Private Washington advices" were given as the source of this information. The story is important enough to deserve a careful check, and, if possible, definite and authoritative information as to whether the ruler of resurgent, on-marching Germany reads his destiny and that of his nation in the stars. Other Fuehrers have done it, since the Babylonians started astrology four or five thousand years ago.

One couldn't imagine an astrologer coaching Calvin Coolidge. It is a much easier hurdle when you are thinking of Herr Hitler. He is a mystic. He might have been the hero of "The Pool in the Christ," written by the German, Gerhart Hauptmann thirty years ago to epitomize the strange mystical vagaries of the German mass-mind and the possibility of its seizure by an evangelical rather than rational attack.

There is definite evidence that Herr Hitler does not stem from the keen scientific mind of the great German tradition, and that he is impelled along the highroad of destiny by other-worldly forces, whether they are from the stars or from some ectoplasmic cosmos which keeps watch and ward over such as he. The most authentic of this evidence—much of it is rumor and cannot be traced to its source—comes from a warm personal friend of Herr Hitler, one of his fervent admirers and for several years his apostle to the Auslanders to the West. I refer to G. Ward Price, distinguished London journalist, through whom Herr Hitler funneled his epistles to the British during the week of September 27.

Mr. Price puts Chancellor Hitler's other-worldly hook-up on record in his highly interesting book, "I Know These Dictators," published last year. In this book, Mr. Price relates that Herr Hitler told him that he was guided by voices, which he, and none other, heard, no matter who might be standing by. Herr Hitler told Mr. Price how one of these voices had saved him for his great mission of national and world salvation. Corporal Adolf Hitler and fifteen other men lay in a shell hole, with shells bursting all around them. A calm, clear, monitory voice spoke in the corporal's ear commanding him to "get out of here." He leaped to his feet and ran, and had taken only a few strides when Fuehrers were two-hour back and forth, with no transmitters other than their drum, he ordered music. Mr. Price, in a moment, to be appraised by one of the yardsticks of modern psychology, and as a result, in any effort to get the facts as to how much of a mystic Chancellor Hitler is. But it is interesting to note such outlandish evidence as that of Mr. Price and Mr. Pelley. Mr. Price, a tall, handsome, monocolored Oxonian, a frequent visitor to America, is a widely known journalist of unquestioned accuracy. When he says Adolf Hitler is guided by voices he is to be believed, and that is interesting in its bearing on Herr Hitler now being paced by some remote cosmic baton.

Major and minor league Fuehrers of Europe went plumb crazy over astrology during the sixteenth century. The continent was torn to pieces by dynastic, religious and economic wars. Even in such civilized countries as Holland and Italy, court astrologers called their shots like a pool shark and predicted ships and armies into decades of war and pillage.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Price will tell us more. We all await to "know these dictators." Every year, I talk to my secretary in blank. The same goes for clairvoyance. The late Harsten Vebien, Dr. Jung, the great Viennese psychoanalyst, and several others have prophesied in the past that we would sink back into mediocrity. Is that what is happening?

CHALLEDON—Jockey Seabo brings Challedon down in front to win Pimlico futurity in Maryland.

Unbeaten Teams Face Big Tests Coming Saturday

Notre Dame Will Mingle With Northwestern's Wildcats, Duke Plays North Carolina

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Of six standouts among 16 unbeaten and untied teams strewn about the nation's gridirons, five will go into action Saturday on the next to the last big week-end of the football season and two of the five may find themselves tussling with a large order of trouble before the afternoon is over.

With Tennessee's Rose Bowl aspirants idling, Notre Dame will mingle with Northwestern's Duke with North Carolina, Texas Christian with Rice, Oklahoma with Iowa State and Georgetown with Maryland.

Duke, which hasn't even been scored on while winning seven straight and is virtually "in" as the Southern Conference champion, will be favored to keep its record unmarred and the same goes for Texas Christian, the southwestern leader, and Georgetown.

But what about Notre Dame and Oklahoma? That's probably what these two would like to know themselves, although the truth of it is they should come through, especially the Ramblers, with the best all-around team since the last product of Knute Rockne eight years ago. However, Northwestern will be loaded up for this one, according to all reports, and, while the Wildcats can't get far themselves, they are going to do the best they can to impede progress of the opposition.

Long since eliminated from the Big Ten race by virtue of a defeat and two ties, Northwestern will be out to salvage what it can in this season's last game for the Wildcats.

Oklahoma, unbeaten, As for Oklahoma's hopefuls, they can expect plenty of trouble from Iowa State, although the game is as near a tossup as can be seen from this distance, and according to mid-west observers, Iowa State was among the unbeaten and untied until last week-end when over-taken by a dud-dink in the Kansas State game, and still can take the Big Six crown by beating the pace-setting Oklahoma eleven.

Aide from all that, the Big Ten championship will be settled in a grand finale between the co-leaders, Minnesota and Wisconsin, each holding three circuit wins and being charged with one defeat.

Utah can't be crowded out of the Rocky Mountain leadership for the time being, and the Pacific Coast championship debate likewise won't be settled for another week.

Keystones Have First Meeting; Plan Fast Team

The Keystone A. C. basketball team, champions of the Beaver Valley league last year will have another strong team this year it was indicated at the first meeting of the year held in the club rooms last night.

The team will be coached again by that grand old veteran Andy "Coots" Venditto, whose specialty is turning out championship teams. He will be assisted by "Timmy" Hutchison, former Westminster star.

The following attended the meeting: Tim Hutchison, Ralph Gilliland, Woods Kelly, Vic Ross, Pete Zingaro, Joe Cooper, Harrison Hammock, Nick Gennock, Paul Marcella, Tom Strausbaugh, Walt Shook, Duddy Perrett, Bill Campbell, Looie Leonard, Sam Bullano, and Paul Morrison. The first practice will be Friday at the Arena.

Franklyn Crisci, president of the City League gave a talk outlining what the league intends to do this year.

City Basketball League Formed With Eight Teams

There will be eight strong teams in the City Basketball League this year, it was definitely decided at the "Y" last night at a meeting held by Johnny Uram, vice president of the league.

The eight teams are N. Y. A. Gersons, Keystones, Union Civics, Len's, Washby, Bears, Gus' Pants and Booker T. Washingtons.

L. Piccutta, of Mahoningtown, was at the meeting last night and gave a fine talk. It was announced that all money for franchises and player lists will be handed into the league office a week from this coming Tuesday.

The league will use The Arena floor for all league battles, it was announced, playing Tuesdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Church Quintets Practice Tonight

The "Y" floor will be used tonight from 7 (til 10 o'clock by six of the New Castle church basketball league teams. It was announced by Henry MacNicholas today.

The practice time was announced as follows:

7 to 7:30 o'clock—Central Presbyterians.

7:30 to 8 o'clock—First Christians.

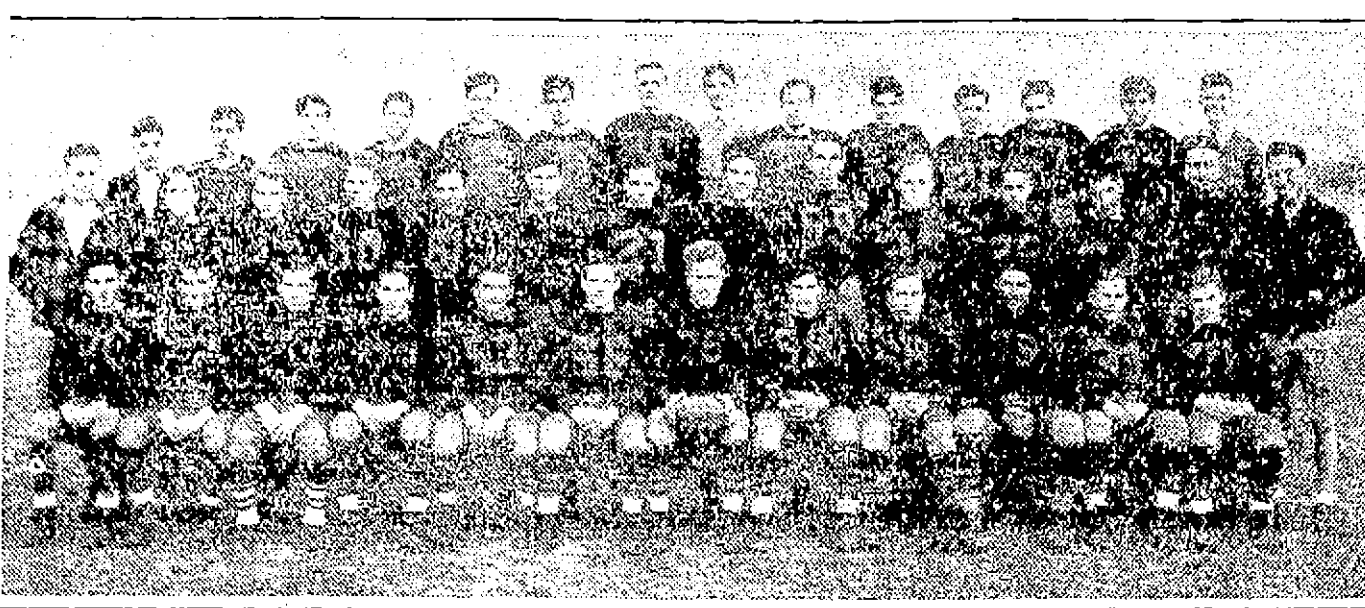

8 to 8:30 o'clock—Third U. P.

8:30 to 9 o'clock—Second U. P.

9 to 9:30 o'clock—St. Vitus.

9:30 to 10 o'clock—Greek Orthodox.

Bessemer's Undeclared 1938 Team

Third row:—Manager Bryan, Donofrio, Galletta, J. Connors, Perk, Gyllito, Swanson, Manager Nelson, P. Skuta, Notareschi, Gallo, Oblak, Genova, Manager Kursul.

Bessemer high school's Red and Black clad gridiron eleven ranks with the greatest Class B. teams in the district. The three straight time champs of the Lawrence County Class B circuit have not dropped a decision since 1936. So far, this season, the plucky Cement City steam roller has won eight consecutive victories.

Despite its enviable record, Bessemer will not likely receive the Class B district title, because the locals do not play the stipulated number of district Class B opponents. Against a crop of major foes, Bessemer has not tasted the pill of defeat in 20 conflicts. Bessemer closes its season Saturday, at Ellwood City, battling Ellwood City high.

Amateur Champ To Battle Biro

Heavyweights To Appear In Last Bout Here Next Monday Night

When fans journey to The Arena next Monday night they will see a real A. A. U. division champion, and a heavyweight at that. Further, the fans will see a fighter who is said to be one of the best amateurs in the game. He is Harry Bobo, of Pittsburgh. He will fight the rugged Joe Biro, of Youngstown.

It will be Bobo's first appearance here which was arranged after considerable difficulty. Time and again Bobo has been asked to box here but due to his prestige as the champion of the Allegheny Mountain Association of the A. A. U., his services have been much in demand.

Al Strakve, of Campbell, did not show up to fight Owen Wills Monday night, hence it was impossible for anyone to obtain a line as to what he could do against Mike Rubin, the light-heavyweight. Rubin, the light-heavyweight, Rubin could not box Bobo because he is too light for the titleholder. However, Biro, weighing 207 pounds, accepted the bout.

Practice Times For Floor Teams In City League

Franklyn R. Crisci, president of the City Basketball league today announced the following practice schedule for the various City league teams at the Arena floor. The practice time is from 6 to 7:30 o'clock, except Sunday.

Friday Nov. 18—Keystones and Bears.

Saturday Nov. 19—Booker T. Washingtons and Len's.

Sunday Nov. 20—Gersons and Gus' Pants.

Tuesday Nov. 22—Union Civics and N. Y. A.

Friday Nov. 25—Gus' Pants and N. Y. A.

Saturday Nov. 26—Washingtons and Len's.

League to start on Sunday, November 27.

Defeat Attempts To 'Sabotage' Bills

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Nov. 16.—Pennsylvania's "Lame Duck" senate today had successfully beaten down an effort by Senator G. Mason Owlett to "sabotage" the two Thompson Bills outlawing race horse gambling information in the state.

Although six Democrats supported the Owlett amendments to cover practically all other forms of gambling, they went down to defeat 13-13 and 15-12.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Lifted from the grid records of Ne-Ca-III: That Turkey Day special between Sharon and New Castle is the ninth meeting since 1922. . . . The neighboring eleven scored its initial victory in 37, copied conflicts: 1922, New Castle 34, Sharon 18; 23, New Castle 27, Sharon 0; 24, New Castle 21, Sharon 0; 25, New Castle 6, Sharon 0; 1933, New Castle 39, Sharon 0; 34, New Castle 6, Sharon 0; 35, New Castle 6, Sharon 0; 36, New Castle 0, Sharon 0; 37, New Castle 0, Sharon 7. . . . New Castle tallied 133 markers compared to 25 for the Orange and Black aggregation. . . .

Its nearly the end of the gridiron trail for Walter Raskowski and Charles Fleming, at Pitt University. The former Red Hurricane greats listed among the finest athletes to ever graduate from New Castle high, were followed by a bit of tough luck throughout their collegiate career. Raskowski has been plagued by injuries. At the present time, he is receiving treatment for an injured foot which has kept him out of the starting berth for the past three Saturdays. Fleming, on the other hand, found himself battling against the frostiest winter in the collegiate ranks. But, despite all things, he managed to hold his second string job. Raskowski had an excellent opportunity of gaining All-American fame this season, but it had not been for injuries. The local young men will wear their Pitt uniforms for the last time before a Pittsburgh gallery, Saturday, and wind up the gridiron trail at Duke.

A dash of this and that. . . . In the recent Manhattan-Georgetown game, three successive holding penalties were called. Bill Terry, manager of the New York Giants, may turn actor. He has been offered a role in a baseball movie, Frank Mc-Cormick and Harry Craft, Cincinnati Red players, were the only National Leaguers to participate in every game last summer. This is the first time in 40 years that Purdue has not played in Chicago or Evansville. Although few persons know it, Knute Rockne was once the baseball coach of the Fighting Irish. . . .

From chalk line to chalk line. . . . Seven Maronic, co-captain of the North Carolina, split the uprisings 12 lines, before missing. Davey O'Brien, T. C. U. back, added more laurels by completing 17 out of 24 passes for 230 yards, Saturday. Lou Zontini's 84 yard scamper against Minnesota was a typical Knute Rockne play. Two more major foes were eliminated from the ranks of the undefeated, namely: Dartmouth and Santa Clara. Both teams were defeated last in 1930. Iowa State formerly mused the same, coming back with a 13-13 deadlock. . . .

Odds and ends in the sports world. . . . Michigan University has a Derby club. A player becomes eligible when he fumbles during a game. He must wear an oversize derby until the next conflict. Some ball clubs permit the sale of autographed balls. Eddie Shore, Boston Bruin defenseman, is reputed to be the highest paid player in the National Professional Hockey league. His salary runs into five figures. Frank Patrick, former Pitt grid star, is a brother of the Chicago boxer who bears the same name. . . .

MUSTANGS PROTEST SCORE. The Mustang football team protests the Indies game last Sunday and claim that the score should have read 6 to 0 in the Mustangs favor and not the Indies. The claim of the Indies to the city junior title is not substantiated by the officials who handled the game.

Seventeen On Floor Squad

New Castle High Basketeers Have Started To Work-out At Wash High

FOOTBALL BOYS TO REPORT LATER

There is a squad of seventeen boys working out at George Washington High court under the watchful eye of Ralph E. Gardner, and from the looks of things, the locals will be in the thick of the Section Three fight this year.

Following the football season there will be 15 or 20 more out for basketball, as a great many of the present grid stars are also basketball artists.

Whole New Team

Following is a list of the boys many of whom played on the reserve team last year: Ray Bombyk, Bill "Specs" Campbell, Albert Christopher, James Clark, Ray Kelley, Vincent Kelley, Fred Maciarello, Fred Nahas, Albert Thompson, Eddie Wenda, Hugo Aspromont, Emanuel Fell, Marion Glassie, George Keeley, Felix Milosewsky, Joe Pissano, James Robinson.

It will be necessary to build a whole new team this year as every one of the starting varsity team of 1937-38 was lost by graduation—Cash Kossela, Tom Carey, Eddie Strausbaugh, Marion Sniezek and Joe Nocera.

Three Reserves Left. The holdovers from the reserve team are—Ray Bombyk, Bill Campbell and Eddie "Flash" Wenda and it will be around these three that Coach Bridenbaugh will mould his 1938-1939 team.

"Socks" Roussos may be converted into a center this year owing to his height.

LEN'S QUINTET WILL BE STRONG

The Len's will put a basketball team on the floor for the first time this year and will have a berth in the City Basketball league, "Gaby" DeCaprio will be the manager of the team.

The following will be on the roster of the team: Colello, Rozak, Gaidro, Zingaro, Pascarella, V. Adamo, Tomasello, G. Ross, Orelli, L. Turco, Spotty Reda, Shoes Verange, M. Conglose, Conit, and Santangelo.

Westminster To End Season With Geneva

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 16.—Westminster's tie-wearer Titans end their season Saturday when they meet the Geneva eleven at Beaver Falls. Playing draws with California Teachers, Thiel and Grove City, losing to Bathany, Slippery Rock and Youngstown and winning from Edinboro, Westminster will be after its second victory of the year.

Interception of a pass by co-captain Throop at Grove City last Saturday provided the lone Titan score, and Coach Grover Washabaugh will depend on his strong defensive line to keep his offensively weak eleven in the ball game at Geneva.

Planning to start the same line-up which came out of the Grover game, unimpaired, Washabaugh's strategy will be based on the punting of Harry Shoup and the pass receiving of Mel Miller, New Brighton end.

Last year, an under-dog Titan eleven was robbed of victory when Geneva quarterback Rosch tossed a 60 yard aerial in the final minute to gain a 6-6 draw.

Five Manhattan Players 'Canned'

Played With Outside Team Last Sunday And Are Barred From Further Competition

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Five Manhattan College football players today were barred forever from representing that institution in intercollegiate competition because they played in outside gridiron battles on Sunday.

The quintet consisted of four varsity players, none of them usually appeared in Manhattan's starting lineup, and a freshman. Although relieved of their uniforms and dismissed from the squad, the five were not expelled from school.

Manhattan's chances in its two remaining 1938 games were dimmed with the voluntary withdrawal from college of Joseph E. Mitchell, junior end from Bellaire, O.

The quintet dismissed for Sabbath playing consisted of Joseph H. Sullivan, junior guard of Somerville, Mass., Adam A. Link, soph tackle of Manutecoke, Pa., Harry J. Greco, soph center of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Anthony R. Greponis, soph halfback of Bloomfield, N. J., and Theodore Godleski, frosh fullback.

Correct this sentence: "Harold is too weak and skinny for football," said the co-ed "but I adore him because of his brains."

Good Toy Year Is Seen At Coming Christmas

By JANE COCHRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—"It's going to be a good toy year," A. Linick, sales manager for the American National Vehicle Co., said today, as he surveyed his depleted showroom.

Christmas and visits to "toylands" are still ahead for the youngsters of America but to Santa Claus' helpers—the men who manufacture and wholesale the nation's toys—Christmas is already a thing of the past.

Super-Streamlined Cars
Super-streamlined cars, with designs that far outshine anything on display at the National Automobile Show, Deanna Dabbin dolls, faithful portraits of the popular young star, skippy trailers to fasten on any wagon or toy car, and wood burning sets for making pictures and decorating furniture have already been sold to stores throughout the nation and are ready to go on display in "toylands."

Letters to Santa Claus this year are certain to contain requests more varied than any in the past as the toy manufacturers have outdone themselves in thinking up new ideas. Complete grocery stores and miniature kitchens, furnished with samples of standard food brands, and toy trons that really work are sure to appear on daughter's list while the son of the family might request a "Lone Ranger" cowboy suit or a velocipede complete with shock absorbers.

Educational Toys
Children prefer educational toys, the manufacturers believe, so toys this year have a definite value to the child. There's a noticeable lack of toy soldiers and an increase in toys with which children may build things.

Today's children are more modern in their demands than their elders and even their furniture must be modernistic.

Manufacturers, who have been planning these toys since last spring now are awaiting the verdict of the judges—the children of America. "Our season's practically through," Linick said. "We will get some re-orders if merchants find they have understocked their toy departments. It's been a good year for us and I think it will be a big year for them."

passed. Many of them are from banks and building and loans. He has an extra force of clerks employed and is getting out the statements as fast as possible.
